Wikipedia Project Rubric

Form.

1. Format Specifications (_____ of 10 pts)

   – Does the author follow the project guidelines? (Including word count)

2. Grammar and Sentence Structure (_____ of 10 pts)

   – Is the text written in proper, precise, and rich English?
   – Do the sentences convey complex thoughts? Does sentence structure vary throughout?

Content.

1. Overall Organization (_____ of 15 pts)

   – Does the added content complement the previous content?
   – Are the sections of the site organized logically?
   – Does the site flow well from one section to the next?
   – Does the site keep its focus throughout?

2. Historical Information (_____ of 30 pts)

   – Is the mathematician placed correctly into historical context?
   – Is there well-researched information about the mathematician's life, peers, and field of study?

3. Mathematical Result (_____ of 30 pts)

   – Is a key result (or more than one) given and explained in easy-to-understand language?
   – Are the methods used by the mathematician to prove the key result(s) presented in easy-to-understand language?
   – Is the key result(s) placed into the context of related mathematics?
   – Is the added content substantially different from class notes and show a deeper understanding of the material?

4. Bibliography / References (_____ of 5 pts)

   – Are there citations throughout the paper?
   – Is the bibliography in a consistent format?
   – Do the references reflect substantial research?